ⁱ The Census Bureau released the preliminary 2020 Census Operational Plan in October 2015 and continues to refine its final testing and operational schedule. We will update this fact sheet regularly, as information becomes available, to reflect newly defined operations and the detailed schedule for census preparations and implementation. Some references to calendar years might be fiscal years for budgetary purposes. (The federal fiscal year runs from October 1 – September 30.)

ⁱⁱ Proposed revisions to the race/Hispanic origin questions could trigger an OMB review of the official federal standards for the classification of race and ethnicity, which must go through the formal regulatory process. The Census Bureau tested a new ethnicity category for Americans of Middle Eastern and North African (MENA) origin in the 2015 National Content Test.
