

As we gather for FCCP's 2021 Convening, we face a time of both reflection and purpose, of dynamic change and robust opportunity. Join us as we hear from leaders who are advancing civic engagement by prioritizing durable power building, focusing on good governance, and ensuring racially just policies. We will explore what funders and field organizations face in states and nationally — successes, barriers, unique opportunities — and develop an understanding of how to move forward successfully. Together, we will examine what philanthropy's role is in building a democracy that is responsive and justice and reconnect with our peers after a year of deep challenges and meaningful triumphs.

We need your help to make this convening a success. Please consider supporting FCCP and this hallmark event by sponsoring a portion of our time together. If none of these packages meet your needs, FCCP Membership & Development Director Elizabeth Shapiro is available to customize an opportunity just for you at eshapiro@funderscommittee.org.
